

I strongly urge you not to repeal the ban on cross-ownership between newspaper and television companies. Such a repeal would allow even more consolidation of an industry that is already dangerously close to a monopoly. In the interest of democracy, it is critical that we maintain the diversity of opinion we get from separate television and newspaper companies.

Sincerely,